CONTRACTS

The Surveyor asked the Board if there needed to be something in writing giving the contractors an extension on the time to start the projects that were already supposed to have begun. Morning stated that nothing needs to be in writing, the Surveyor can come to an agreement with the contractors. Some landowners have voiced concerns that because of the delay, the projects may not be completed before planting time. The Surveyor will work with the landowners and the contractors to try and avoid any conflict with planting.
